

Profile Projector /
optical projector

It projects a two-dimensional magnified image of the workpiece onto a viewing screen to facilitate measurement.

A profile projector is made up of three main elements: the projector comprising

- a light source and a set of lens housed inside an enclosure,
- a work table to hold the workpiece in place, and
- a transparent screen with or without a chart gauge for comparison or measurement of parts

